

EXHIBIT T

Log in

Thread

gruber 09/05/2024

I saw this happen to a woman a few spots behind me in the TSA line at SFO, flying home from WWDC in June. The TSA agent kept telling her "You're at the wrong airport" over and over and the woman kept pointing to her boarding pass. At the time I was confused how someone could go to the wrong airport.

sfgate 09/05/2024

Starting this summer, San Francisco International Airport officials began documenting the number of passengers who have confused it with San Francisco Bay Oakland International Airport.

sfgate.com/trave...

sfgate.com
OAK flyers are mistakenly going to SFO following airport rebrand

657 Q 238 U 23 V 45